1. The School

Olé Languages is situated on a picturesque pedestrian avenue in the city centre of Barcelona. The school that has been accredited by the Instituto Cervantes in February 2009 offers a wide range of high-quality, immersive Spanish courses in small groups to competitive prices.

1.1 Philosophy

When Rosa Ribas joined Javier Sánchez in 2005 to found Olé Languages, she could count on many years of teaching experience in corporate schools. Managing her own educational enterprise, her principal objective was to assemble a team of highly qualified, enthusiastic and experienced teachers.

The profesores who work at Olé Languages today pursue teaching as their vocation. They have made a conscious decision to work in a school of manageable size where the atmosphere is personal and the possibilities to interact with the students are manifold. These people are the corazón of Olé Languages.

The mix of internationality, familiarity, attention to the individual needs of each student and high teaching standards guided by the CEFR and the standards set out by the Instituto Cervantes have been the recipe of Olé's success. Within the last three years student numbers have tripled. And while we strive to improve our performance every day, there is one thing that we do not want to change, our prices.

Olé Languages is committed to a low-price policy that allow students maximum flexibility. As a matter of fact, there is no Spanish school in Barcelona accredited by the Instituto Cervantes that undercuts our prices.

Europe and Russia hail about 10% of the students while North Americans (15%), Brazilians (6%), Asians (5%) and South Africans (2%) account for the remaining 26%.

86% of students are aged between 20 and 30 years. The student age averages out to 24 years during the summer months and 26 years during the rest of the year. There is no age limit but generally, we do not accept students under the age of 18.

The majority of students stays at the school for a study period of 4 and 6 weeks. Roughly 33% of the students take a course for 12 weeks and more. Especially during the summer months study periods are shorter. Throughout the year, the most popular course is the 20 hours/week intensive course with 52% of students choosing this option. Nearly 40% opt for the 10 hours/week semi-intensive course while the D.E.L.E preparation course and the evening course account for about 8%.

1.4 The Teachers

When academic coordinator, Rosa Ribas, started to manage her own Spanish school she could count on many years of teaching experience in corporate educational enterprises. Managing her own Spanish school, her principal objective was to assemble a team of highly qualified, enthusiastic and experienced teachers.

The 10 profesores who work at Olé Languages today pursue teaching as their vocation. They have made a conscious decision to work in a school of manageable size where the atmosphere is personal and the possibilities to interact with the students are manifold. These people are the corazón of Olé Languages.

Without exception, any teacher employed at our school holds a degree in Spanish literature and linguistics as well as a specialization in teaching Spanish as a foreign language (E/LE) and has at least two years teaching experience.

1.6 The City

It is nearly impossible to describe Barcelona in just a few words. It is the capital of Catalonia and Spain's second largest city with 1.5 million inhabitants in Barcelona city and 3 million counting the urban catchment. It is a vibrant city, a meeting point and melting pot of people and cultures that features a breathtaking historical city centre, fantastic contrasts of old and contemporary architecture as well as beautiful beaches. The mild winters and warm, sunny summers paired with the Mediterranean savoir vivre combine into an exuberant atmosphere.

Since the 1992 Olympic Games the city is experiencing what could be described as its second renaissance. The urban developments freed the centre from through traffic and have given Barcelona a beautiful beach front, squares and parks, a state of the art contemporary art museum and included the restoration of historical markets and architectural highlights. These investments paired with economic growth attracted a new generation of businessmen, artists, designers, musicians and adventurers from around the world who have turned Barcelona into a buzzing, cutting-edge urban hub that never sleeps.

1.7 Activities

We have had the experience that students quickly get to know each other and enjoy discovering the city together. To help students from different study groups with different timetables to meet and mingle we organize a casual weekly student get-together on Thursday evenings in changing cafés and bars in downtown Barcelona.

We encourage students to discover Barcelona together and we offer them a wide range of weekly and monthly publications like Time Out and Guia del Ocio in Spanish and English that they can consult at any time in the school. Besides, weekly updated information about cultural highlights are available on the notice board and we are always happy to recommend places of interest, events and festivals.

Furthermore, we collaborate with a Barcelona-wide event agency that offers daily cultural activities from guided tours through the historic city centre, to pub crawls, bike tours, flamenco and tapas nights, salsa courses as well as day and weekend excursions to nearby towns and places of interest.

1.8 ¿Porqué Olé?

- I Olé Languages is the the cheapest Spanish school accredited by the Instituto Cervantes in Barcelona
- II Olé Languages delivers what it promises: high-quality Spanish courses to competitive prices tailored to the needs of each student, taught by dedicated and experienced Spanish teachers. How we know that? Because over 50% of our students prolong their course and/or return to the school to continue their studies.
- III Olé Languages is a comparatively small school with a very friendly and familiar atmosphere.

2. Spanish as a Foreign Language

Based on an immersive, communicative approach to language acquisition students learn the Spanish grammar step by step according to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR) accompanied by writing and listening exercises as well as vocabulary training and conversation practice.

2.1 Teaching Method and Objectives

Any Spanish course at Olé Languages is based on an immersive method of teaching which entails that from beginning to end of each lesson the only language spoken in the classroom is Spanish. This approach gives the students the opportunity to familiarize themselves fast with the new linguistic environment and helps them to learn to communicate effectively and confidently in everyday, real-life situations.

In addition, emphasis is placed on a congruent advancement in the key disciplines, that is, a) mastery of Spanish grammar, b) vocabulary acquisition, c) listening comprehension and, d) oral and written expression. Teachers are not only encouraged to use a wide variety of didactic materials but have all the tools and media at their disposal that they need to turn their classrooms into communicative, interactive spaces.

Finally, we base teaching Spanish as a foreign language on the assumption that it is essential to learn a foreign language within its cultural context. Language never is a rigid construct made up of a set of rules but on the contrary, changes constantly. We see the Spanish language as very lively and alive and we believe that it is indispensable to teach its rules alongside its cultural usage for it to become meaningful to foreigners. Therefore, Spanish and Catalan customs and traditions form as much part of the discussions in the classrooms as the political and socio-cultural changes Spain has been and is undergoing. Spain is on the one hand a country with a very rich history and longstanding traditions. On the other hand, it is a comparatively young democracy that had to overcome a violent civil war and Franco's dictatorship before it would catch up with the rest of Europe within less than three decades. Our aim is to communicate our enthusiasm for this exciting country, its language and its culture to our students.

2.2 Teaching Standards & Study Periods

Any course taught at Olé Languages follows the Common European Framework of Reference, short CEFR. It is a guideline that describes achievements of students of foreign languages across Europe. It divides learners into three broad groups and each group into two sub categories. These six reference levels are becoming widely accepted as the standard for grading an individual's language proficiency.

LEVELS		STUDY PERIOD (10-25 HRS/WEEK)
A Basic User
A1	Breakthrough	5 weeks
A2	Waystage	5 weeks
B Independent User
B1	Threshold	6 weeks
B2	Vantage	7 weeks
C Proficient User
C1	Effective Operational Proficiency	12 weeks
C2	Mastery	12 weeks
TOTAL		47 weeks

82% of our students are beginners or fall into the first three levels, A1, A2, and B1. For each of these three levels there are two to three study groups taking place concurrently each week which means that students who already have previous knowledge of Spanish may start at any given Monday throughout the year. Courses for absolute beginners start every other Monday (please see page 15 / Start Dates for more information).

2.3 Class Size

Small study groups are decisive for the learning success. This is why the number of students per class is limited to eight and the average ranges from 5 to 6 students so that the teachers can answer questions individually and each student gets the change to practice their newly acquired knowledge and vocabulary continually.

2.4 Study Materials

The principal course book employed for levels A1-B2 is entitled Prisma published by Edinumen. It has on the one hand a strong communicative focus and on the other hand, is adapted to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages and the guidelines of the Instituto Cervantes. It not only allow us to track students' progress and enhance compatibility with courses taken before and after visiting our school but its structure also allows students to follow up on specific grammatical issues on their own.

In addition to the course book that sets the basic theme of the week with regards to grammar and vocabulary, the students are engaged in a variety of activities, as for example, reading magazines and newspaper articles, watching excerpts from Spanish films and news clips followed by analysis and debate, as well as listening and conversation exercises.

2.5 Assessment

For non-beginners, entry levels are determined by a detailed entry level test that the student needs to complete before course start. We further conduct tests upon completion of each level and at the end of the course.

Students receive a diploma indicating the level, number of hours participated and grade obtained. The qualifications are: "Aprobado" (Passed), "Bien" (Good) "Notable" (Very good) and "Sobresaliente" (Excellent).

Students who prefer not to take the test receive a certificate of attendance that states the total amount of hours they have participated in the course.

3. Course Options

*Olé Languages offers a wide variety of Spanish courses for beginners, intermediate and advanced learners that range from a maximum of 25 hours to a minimum of 4 hours per week. The courses run from Monday to Friday and take place in the mornings, afternoons or evenings throughout the whole year. Please find more information about the D.E.L.E at the website of the Instituto Cervantes itself.

The preparation course is directed at all those who would like to prepare to take the D.E.L.E at any of the three levels, beginner, intermediate or advanced:

This qualification validates sufficient linguistic ability to get by in average day-to-day situations in normal communication circumstances, which do not require specialized use of the language.

3) Superior :: Diploma de Español Nivel C2 (Proficiency level)
